

Thumb One Book

Create an action verb book with your students using their thumbprints. Little Jack Horner put in his thumb and pulled out a plum. If he were to write a page for this book, it might say, "Thumb one's pulling." The cover below offers suggestions for other pages (Thumb one's swinging, kicking, etc.) Children love making this book and reading it again and again and again! Their thumbprint becomes the character with added features and details that match the action verb.
